IN BRIEF

Providing almost 50m2 of potential habitable space on one level, this hamlet house comes with an attached barn (50m2 footprint) on two levels plus a 90m2 attached garden to the side of the house with about 30m2 to the rear. An ideal lock-up and go holiday home to establish that bolthole in France.

The accommodation comprises essentially two rooms (30m2 and 12m2 - the latter with direct access to the garden), a bedroom (8m2) and a bathroom (8m2); the bathroom having only a toilet installed at the moment but with sufficient space for a shower unit.

The attached 50m2 barn provides the opportunity (subject to planning approval) to significantly expand the living accommodation possibly on two levels (barn footprint only).
