DESCRIPTION

The main house comprises on the ground floor, a spacious kitchen dining area, a sitting room / reception room with wood-burner, a laundry room and a bathroom with shower and WC and a double bedroom.

On the first floor there are two very spacious bedrooms leading of the main corridor one of which has kept all the traditional features of this amazing property with wooden beamed ceiling and original floorboards. There is also a large bathroom with traditional bath and shower.

As the property is located in the national park it has to conform to very strict standards so in the basement of the property a completely new septique tank drainage system has been installed as well as an advanced wood pellet fuelled central heating system. There is modern double glazing throughout and the renovation has been carried out with taste and to a high standard.

Effectively the main house is semi-detached, the other part of the property being the huge barn with the vaulted basement. The photographs accurately show the scale and potential of this part of the property. It could either be converted to more accommodation or could function as a venue for events, conferences, or training activities. As the property is not too far away from the larger towns and cities it would make a fantastic wedding venue or corporate training centre. The spacious outhouse with enclosed garden area would also make the perfect reception area for celebrations and events.
