IN BRIEF

A rare opportunity to acquire a superb period 5 bedroom apartment in a Napoléonic chateau set in beautiful grounds with far reaching views. The chateau was built for the Marquis de Rastignac between 1789 – 1817 and there is evidence to suggest that it inspired the design for the White House in Washington. The chateau, which is divided into 5 large high class apartments, has a vast shared downstairs entrance hall with columns, reception rooms, magnificent stone staircase and stone landing. The apartment with views on 3 sides has unique lighting specifically commissioned for it in Holland and is for sale with contents included and has its own section of garden with cut hedges and a beautiful view.
