DESCRIPTION

The house has everything you desire and has been extremely well-maintained by the owners. Many of the storage cupboard doors are carefully chosen, old original doors that have been lovingly restored by the owner

Heating is supplied to all rooms by a central heating system and the gas is supplied by village gas. The boiler, replaced recently, is a reliable DeDietrich wall-hung condensing boiler and the unit is mounted in the garage. There is a highly efficient Scandinavian wood burner (convector burner) supplying additional heat and a cosy atmosphere. The chimney has been beautifully restored by local craftsmen, applying techniques and advice from professionals from La Cité of Carcassonne, (there is plenty of space in the garage for storing wood!)

The newly-fitted kitchen has a gas hob (village gas) and electric oven.

There is a well-appointed principal bedroom and shower room with basin and toilet, on this ground floor.

The first floor is accessed by a wooden staircase. On the landing is a pull-down ladder to access the large attic space, which is used for storage.

Here are another two large bedrooms with a fully tiled shower room with basin and toilet.

The landing leads to a fully insulated 20m2 summer kitchen, fitted with everything you need so that you seldom have to go downstairs to fetch forgotten items! Equipped with fridge, dishwasher, sink and bottle-gas hob. Glass-sliding doors lead out onto a beautiful tiled roof terrace with shaded seating area, attractive wall lighting in stone pockets,...
