DESCRIPTION

Located in the heart of Saint-Thibéry, just 10 minutes from Pézenas and approximately 15 minutes from the Mediterranean coastline, this substantial former winegrower's house offers over 279m² of internal space and a range of possibilities for use as a large residence or as a rental investment.

Partially renovated, the property spans three levels and retains several original features, including stone staircases, traditional floor tiles, and exposed beams. While some updates have been completed, various areas remain unfinished and require further work.

Accessed via original double doors, the entrance hall is wide and functional, featuring worn patterned tiles and a solid stone staircase. To the right, a 100m² garage still houses the original wine vats and provides significant storage or workshop potential. At the back of the hall, an old pantry leads to an enclosed courtyard with mature planting and access to a shaded terrace with basic outbuildings. A staircase provides secondary access to the first-floor terrace.

The first floor includes the largest apartment (approx. 118m²), which comprises a spacious living room with large windows, exposed beams, and original tiles, a partially fitted kitchen, two bedrooms (one with an en suite shower), a family bathroom, WC, and a private 40m² terrace.

On the top floor, there are two additional apartments of around 60m² each. These units have basic internal layouts and include a living/kitchen area, two bedrooms, and a bathroom. Both require completion and finishing work, although they retain some character elements.
