IN BRIEF

Dating back to 1810, this modernised character stone house has 6 bedrooms, 3 of which are en-suite and is being sold totally furnished.

It is just a short walk to the village of Saint Severin, which has restaurants, a boulangerie, doctors, a pharmacy, a Post Office and a bank.

It is also just 10kms from the delightful village of Aubeterre, one of the prettiest villages in France and only 15kms from the Dordogne town of Riberac, which has a huge market every Friday and has all amenities.

NOTES

DESCRIPTION

You access the property from a country lane via electronic gates into the driveway.

Through the grand wooden door into the spacious hallway ($12.7m^2$), the lounge ($22.7m^2$), with original fireplace and log burning stove and dining room ($23m^2$) are to the right hand side.

Along the hall, there is a ground floor shower room $(4m^2)$.

To the right of the hallway, you will find the recently fitted kitchen/sitting room (35m²) with marble work surfaces and a large central island. The sitting room has an original fireplace and log-burning stove.

Through from here into the sunroom (24.5m²), with doors to the large raised terrace, offering fantastic views.

A door from this room leads to the utility room.

From the hallway, the original staircase takes you to the first floor, where there are 3 en-suite bedrooms $(20.8m^2, 15.6m^2m^2, 16.8m^2)$ and an office or further bedroom $(17.7m^2)$. The main bedroom has double doors to a large balcony.

Up to the 2nd floor and there are 2 further bedrooms (13.1m², 13.3m²), a shower room (5.2m²) and separate WC plus converted attic space that is currently used to storage but could become extra living space if needed.

Outside, there are gardens, a meadow and two barns that could also become extra living accommodation with relevant permissions.
