DESCRIPTION

Properties of this scale and character are rarely found in village settings. Arranged over two floors, the living space features six generous bedrooms, three bathrooms and a fully fitted kitchen. The main living area on the first floor is particularly impressive, centred around a splendid fireplace and opening directly onto one of the generous terraces where the breathtaking countryside views can be fully appreciated. Also on this level is a kitchen/dining room, 2 bedrooms, a bathroom and a toilet. On the second floor, a second generous reception space offers wonderful flexibility, ideal as an additional lounge, games room or even further guest accommodation. This floor could equally be converted into independent 4 bedroom, 2 bathroom accommodation for gite rental or multigenerational living.

What makes this property especially appealing is its sense of scale and quiet faded elegance — something rarely found in village houses. The generous reception rooms and character features evoke a more gracious era, when homes were designed for entertaining and family gatherings. Many beautiful period features have been preserved, including high ceilings and an eye-catching array of original painted cement tiles that bring colour and personality throughout the house. These authentic details give the property a distinctive character, while modern comforts such as gas central heating ensure year-round ease of living. Whilst the current owners have undertaken extensive restoration work, there are still improvements which could be made.

Outside, the property continues to impress. The private landscaped garden of approximately 437 m² includes...
