NOTES

DESCRIPTION

This lovely property is the excellent hide-away: the spacious living room, the large but easy to maintain grounds offer a way of life with less stress, clean air and the possibility to start an allotment, an orchard or just enjoy what is already there.

Situated at the end of the lane, it offers beautiful views over the countryside. A walk in the forest starts right behind the garden.

The house offers a great living room with the original fire place, the "cantou" where the main source of heating is: a sturdy log burner, which heats the house very efficiently together -if needed- with the other log burner in the kitchen. A bedroom, a bathroom and toilet are behind the kitchen as well as the adjoining workshop.

Above the kitchen is a light and airy mezzanine which could be transformed into a wonderfully large bedroom with balcony and view. Above the living room is a separate floor with two bedrooms, a small office space and a bathroom with toilet.

The workshop which is accessible from the house, also has an entrance from the garden. Because the house is built on a hill, it has different levels inside but also outside, in the garden. Steps lead to hidden corners, too the pool and to a lovely little pond. The field behind the pool already has a henhouse and a fenced allotment. The working bread oven completes the property. So...why wait?

Escape the hectic way of life and start enjoying life...
