NOTES

DESCRIPTION

Renovation Potential – Ideal for Professional Use or a Primary Residence

This property offers exceptional renovation potential for those wishing to create an income-generating home or accommodate a large family.

The spacious ground floor comprises two large convertible spaces, perfect for a self-contained gîte, a guest suite, or even a small office or workshop. With independent access and sufficient separation from the main living area, this layout would be ideal for a B&B, an artist's studio, or a seasonal rental while maintaining privacy.

The duplex upper floor, with its two additional rooms requiring renovation, could be converted into a private guest wing, a home office, or a children's play/study area, depending on your needs.

The large attic, with its beautiful exposed beams, also offers excellent conversion opportunities for a studio, additional bedrooms, or creative workspace.

Outside, the existing barn and outbuildings could be converted into workshops, rental accommodation, or event spaces, subject to planning permission. The separate rear access facilitates and secures logistics and guest arrivals.

Thanks to the solid structural elements already in place (renovated windows and a modern pellet boiler), the major investments have already been made, allowing you to focus on making your project a reality.
