IN BRIEF

Behind its traditional appearance, this charming house is in fact a modern construction from 2000, built using Dutch bricks. With a strong desire to respect the local architectural style, the owner chose to enhance the exterior with an elegant façade of exposed stone, typical of the Auvergne region.

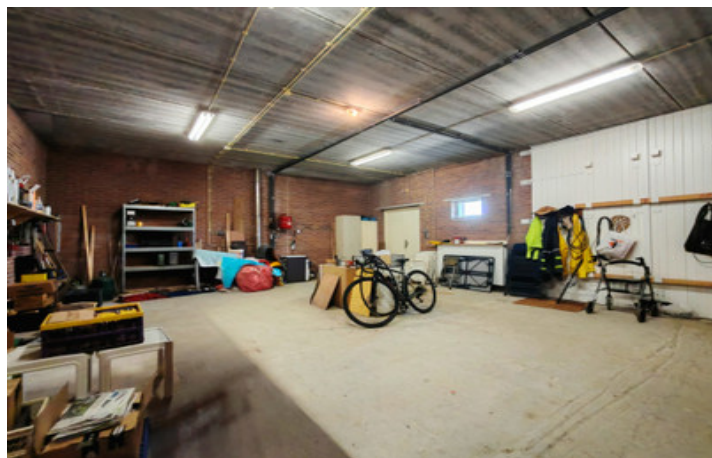

The property is divided into two separate living areas, connected by a shared entrance, offering multiple layout possibilities (main residence, guest house, etc.).

NOTES

DESCRIPTION

Main living area (1st floor) :

Accessible via a few steps, this section opens into a spacious and welcoming entrance hall.

A beautiful staircase leads to the main floor, where you'll find:

- A large 91 m² open-plan living space with a fully equipped kitchen. This bright and airy room benefits from a wide bay window with stunning views over the surrounding countryside.

- Two comfortable bedrooms, each measuring 14 m².

- A shower room with WC.

Enjoy underfloor heating throughout this level.

Independent second living space:

Also accessed via the shared entrance, this self-contained area includes:

- A 26 m² living room with open-plan fitted kitchen, opening onto the garden through large French doors, which can serve as a private entrance.

- A spacious 23 m² bedroom with direct access to the cellars.

Converted basement:

- A generous bathroom with both bathtub and shower.

- A separate WC with laundry area.

- Two vaulted cellars (33 m² and 26 m²) with potential to be converted into additional living space.

Additional space:

- A 107 m² attic, fully convertible to suit your needs.

- A large garage/workshop — perfect for DIY enthusiasts or as extra storage.

Key features:

- Double glazing throughout the house.

- Ideally located: just a short walk from the village of Lalizolle, and only 10 minutes from Ébreuil and the A71 motorway (Paris–Clermont route).

- Peaceful setting with open views over the countryside.
