NOTES

DESCRIPTION

This lovely little town house is one of the most photographed in Uzerche. It is quirky, stacked with historic details.

The entrance door leads you straight into the living/dining room with an open plan kitchen. There is a cozy little sitting room, le Petit Salon too.

The staircase is in the middle of the house and behind it is the laundry/boiler room and with a few steps up, the toilet. On the first floor (while having sneaked a peek in the sitting room through the curious little window!) you will find a remarkably spacious bedroom, from which can be transformed into two double bedrooms if needed, because it has got two doorways. The beautifully restored half-timber back wall offers a great ambiance. It will be possible to have a bathroom/shower/toilet here too. The house hasn't got a heating system which allows you to install what is most convenient.

There are two fire places which could be brought back to 'life'.

Situated in the heart of beautiful Uzerche, you will be in the middle of it all: Restaurants, bars, the cinema and various shops are a stones throw away. The...
