IN BRIEF

Charming Village Home with Stunning South-Facing Views

Located in a peaceful hamlet of Saint-Alban-des-Hurtières, this property boasts one of the best views in the area. With full southern exposure, the manageable garden and wooded plot enjoy sunshine all day—an ideal setting for nature lovers.

The house currently includes two bedrooms, a living room, and a kitchen, but with modest investment, it could easily be transformed into a four-bedroom home or include an independent apartment for guests or rental income.

With traditional stone walls and original rural features, the house is full of charm. A bit of renovation will turn it into a warm, characterful home.

DESCRIPTION

Charming Village Home with Exceptional Potential

This characterful property currently comprises four main rooms, including two bedrooms located on the top floor, and a spacious kitchen and living room on the upper ground floor. A charming bathroom, complete with a traditional hip bath, and a separate WC complete the current habitable space.

On the lower ground floor, beneath the kitchen and living room, you'll find two generously sized cellar rooms—ideal for use as a laundry area, additional freezer space, or general household storage.

Access to the home is via a quaint stone staircase that leads into a small glazed veranda and through to the main entrance.

To the right of the house is a large, attached barn, formerly used for straw storage. Below the barn sits a garage and the remnants of a stable once used for wintering cattle. The barn structure is in excellent condition, with ideal south-west orientation—perfect for the future addition of bay windows. With its layout, it offers straightforward potential for internal access from the main house, and could be converted into additional living space or even a separate apartment.

The garage and former stable below also offer renovation potential and could be transformed into an independent flat or guest accommodation.

Renovation Opportunity with Solid Foundations

While the property is structurally sound and full of charm, prospective buyers should be ready to invest in some essential upgrades. The septic system requires renovation, and insulation improvements would be necessary for full-time comfort. However, with vision and renovation skills,...
