DESCRIPTION

The presbytery dates from 1868 and is a notable feature of the hamlet, with a statue of a saint set into the upper wall. The house is fully habitable, though some updating may be desired. The electrics were renewed in 2006, and the property benefits from double glazing. There is no central heating, but a fireplace is present in the lounge. The furniture would be included in the sale.

The garden is low maintenance and fully enclosed. To the side, there is a covered terrace, and to the rear, a large paved terrace offers open views across the countryside.
