DESCRIPTION

Tucked away in peaceful open countryside, this natural stone farmhouse offers the ideal combination of traditional charm and modern convenience. Just five minutes from the N10, it provides excellent links to Angoulême and Bordeaux, while letting you enjoy the serenity of rural France.

Ground Floor

Step inside to a light-filled kitchen/dining room with a fitted kitchen and polished granite worktop — the perfect space for entertaining or family life. The cosy sitting room features a striking stone fireplace, with stairs leading to the first floor.

Two comfortable ground-floor bedrooms each have wooden floors and built-in cupboards. A shower room with sink, bidet, and shower sits off the hallway, alongside a separate WC with window and wash basin.

The generous summer kitchen/boiler room doubles as a second dining space and houses the water softener, gas supply for the cookers, an air pump system, and a backup oil-fired boiler. Built-in storage and direct access to the terrace — with far-reaching countryside views — make this a practical and inviting part of the home. The private sun terrace overlooks the countryside.

From the main kitchen, a hallway with fitted storage leads to an office or fourth bedroom. Beyond this lies the impressive barn/workshop, complete with large electric door, plentiful power points, overhead lighting, and a concrete floor. There's also a cave, an open hanger, and a garage with electric door.
