DESCRIPTION

Entering the house into a hallway you have a large sitting room to your right (22m²) and a dining room / kitchen straight ahead (22m²). Both of these rooms have air conditioning (both hot and cold) in addition to central heating radiators. There is also a small kitchen with sink and plumbing that leads to a separate toilet and shower room. There are stairs leading to a balcony (6m²) on the first floor which gives access to two bedrooms (12m² each).

The garden is accessed either from the dining room / kitchen or from the small kitchen; it is completely secluded and is an absolute sun trap. There is also access to a massive (113m²) area split into four, including a garage; and above this is a further 25m² of available space - this could be incorporated into the house (with suitable planning permission to provide additional space if wanted).

The main hallway gives access to the first floor which has two large (26m² each) bedrooms. A further flight of stairs gives access to the attic area which is completely insulated and provides a further 72m² of space.

The central heating is powered by a recently installed wood pellet boiler.

The large towns of Montmorillon and Le Blanc are within a 30 minute drive and have all amenities (hospitals, major supermarkets etc.)

Poitiers and Limoges provide airports with flights to the U.K. as well as high speed rail links to Paris and Lille for ongoing connection to Eurostar.
