NOTES

DESCRIPTION

This exceptional 2009 architect-designed home offers a unique blend of artful living and countryside calm. The moment you step through the wide entrance doors, you're welcomed by light, space, and an ambience that feels both contemporary and deeply comforting.

Designed as an L-shaped home centred around a sleek, modern kitchen, the interior has been curated to maximise light, connection to nature, and everyday comfort. Every detail, from the clever lighting placement enhances the architectural features throughout.

Interior:

- Entrance Hall (35.76m²): A striking entry point that sets the tone for the property. Double doors, custom lighting, and visual flow in both directions. The hallway gives access to the kitchen, the stairs to the upper level, and both wings of the house. Storage cupboard under the staircase.

- Kitchen (16.57m²): The heart of the home. Fully fitted with two ovens, an induction hob and separate gas burner, two extractors, ample cupboard space (wood and stainless steel), and a central island with sink and dishwasher. Triple sliding patio doors lead out to the terrace.

- Utility Room (16.57m²): Houses the heat pump, water softener, washing machine, sink, and electric panel (already pre-wired for a future pool). Provides access to the outside of the property and also into the garage/workshop.

- Dining Room & Living Room (54.14m² combined): Open-plan yet divided by a feature wall, which is already pre-installed with a gas pipe, allowing for easy installation of a gas fireplace if desired. Triple sets of sliding patio doors offer indoor-outdoor flow,...
