IN BRIEF

Hidden behind large wooden gates in the heart of the charming Pyrenean village of Ardèche, this elegant character home dating from around 1875 offers far more than first impressions suggest. Beautifully presented and full of warmth, the property combines authentic charm with modern comfort, including a stylish fitted kitchen, double glazing and an economical heat pump system.

The house opens onto private enclosed gardens with a heated swimming pool, generous parking, a barn and hayloft bursting with possibilities, and large flat sunny parcel of land.

Peaceful yet central, this is a home designed for enjoying life — long summer lunches by the pool, cosy winters by the fire and unforgettable gatherings with family and friends. Surrounded by walking routes, lakes, ski resorts and easy access to Spain, Toulouse and the Pyrenees, it would suit equally

DESCRIPTION

Set behind large wooden gates in the heart of the Pyrenean village of Ardiège, this beautiful hidden gem immediately surprises and delights.

From the village lane, very little prepares you for what lies beyond: a substantial character home dating from around 1875, complete with swimming pool, attached barn, hayloft, enclosed gardens including a flat parcel of land (constructible subject to planning permission).

Private, peaceful with character, a home original character and genuine potential with modern improvements including double glazing throughout and an economical Hitachi air/water heat pump heating system.

The property combines the warmth and charm of a traditional Pyrenean home with exciting possibilities for future projects, a perfect family residence with income potential or simply a wonderful retreat to share with friends and family.

A large porte cochère opens onto a private driveway with parking for three to four vehicles. The house itself immediately catches the eye with its attractive façade and exposed timber framing, hinting at the character waiting inside.
