NOTES

DESCRIPTION

This is a home designed for living well. From the moment you step into the bright, welcoming entrance hall, the house unfolds with an easy, elegant flow — generous spaces, warm light and a sense of calm that invites you to slow down and settle in.

The large living room, with its parquet floors and open fireplace, is the natural heart of the home: a place for long, relaxed evenings, gatherings with friends and quiet winter afternoons by the fire. The spacious kitchen, large enough for family meals and everyday conversations, connects seamlessly to a versatile garden□side room - perfect as a home office, creative studio or cosy guest space.

Upstairs, five comfortable bedrooms offer room for everyone, including one with French doors opening onto the balcony - a lovely spot for morning coffee or watching the sunrise. The large attic, already divided into three generous areas, offers exciting potential for future living space, hobbies or a private retreat.

Outside, the property truly comes into its own. The garden is a rare and beautiful sanctuary: a blend of classic French orchard charm and striking botanical elegance. Alongside cherries, figs, plums, quince, walnut and hazelnut trees stand majestic cedar trees and a tall Monkey Puzzle tree, giving the grounds a sense of grandeur and distinction seldom found in rural France.

A small greenhouse (rather overgrown), a traditional well and a kitchen garden add to the pleasure of outdoor living - whether you dream of growing your own produce, cultivating exotic plants or simply enjoying the changing seasons in a peaceful, natural setting.

This is more than a house; it's a lifestyle - one of space, tranquillity and timeless...
