NOTES

DESCRIPTION

This large historic village house offers a rare combination of character, space, and potential. Original features such as stone walls, tomette tiles, wooden floors, and exposed beams showcase the home's history, while the flexible layout provides options for a family home or generating rental income.

The ground floor comprises an entrance hall with toilet, a kitchen/diner (30m²), a lounge (42m²), a summer lounge (25m²), and a back hall with laundry area (18m²) leading to the cellar.

On the first floor, to the right of the stairs is the master bedroom with ensuite and toilet, featuring a balcony overlooking the garden and surrounding countryside. To the left, a large hallway leads to two additional spacious bedrooms (21m² and 44m²) and a bathroom (7m²). From this hallway, a door opens onto a roof terrace with views of the village and countryside.

The second floor features a self-contained apartment (approx. 49m²) with lounge, kitchen/dining area, bedroom, shower room, and separate toilet—ideal for guests or rental income.

The property sits on a 2191m² plot, with a rear terrace enjoying countryside views, a covered open barn, and remnants of an old building at the side, which could be restored or converted.

With its combination of historic charm, generous living spaces, and flexible layout, this village house offers a unique opportunity to create a comfortable family home, holiday rental, or a blend of both, all within a charming rural setting.
