The lounge part of this attractive room has patio doors out to the pretty back garden and patio area as well as a fireplace with woodburning stove.

Upstairs is a small room with velux window that could be renovated into further habitable space (no current heating on this level). On the other side is an attic space.

Outside the back garden is a nice size with a private patio area, with built in pizza/bread oven and a small but solid store room. There are pretty flower beds and a flat area of lawn. Double gates lead to the small road in front of the house that serves the hamlet, allowing for off-street parking. The back of the garage is accessible from the garden via a pedestrian door, on the other side (the road side) are larger double doors for vehicle access. Above is a mezzanine area ideal...
