NOTES

DESCRIPTION

On a shady square in the centre of the pretty medieval village of La Cassaigne, you will find this delightful property. The carved stone above the entrance and the large wooden door give you a hint of the character and history that this village holds. The entrance leads into a kitchen dining area where there is plenty of space for preparing and enjoying meals. On the first floor there is an office/library, ideal for working from home. This room also has a mezzanine which can serve as a guest bed for when family and friends come to visit. There is a wood burning stove which is more than capable of heating the whole floor of the property and provides a fantastic centrepiece on a cold winters evening.

The main living room is filled with light and feels airy and spacious whatever the season. The access to the roof terrace divides the bedroom and living room areas without sacrificing light or space. This room has reversible air conditioning to keep the space comfortable whatever the weather outside. A shower room and separate toilet complete this floor.

The highlight of the property is the roof terrace; at around 50 square metres it provides more than enough space for outside living whenever the weather permits. The views over the square, the village and the countryside are beautiful. This is a great spot to entertain friends or family, enjoy a meal or simply relax with a coffee or...
