DESCRIPTION

This charming mid-terrace stone house in Le Mené offers generous space, flexible living areas and the convenience of being just a short walk from village shops, cafés and services. Set behind an impressive stone archway, the large wooden front door opens into a wide hallway that immediately conveys the character and scale of the property.

On the ground floor, you'll find two bedrooms, ideal for single-level living or guest accommodation. A separate entrance leads into an additional room currently used as a wellness clinic; with its woodburner and internal access to the hallway, it could easily become a cosy lounge or home office. In one corner is the oil boiler and laundry area, with a door leading directly to the rear garden.

A wide staircase rises to the first floor, where there is a wide landing leading into a bright open-plan lounge and dining room with double-aspect windows that fill the space with natural light. Also on this level is the kitchen, a generous room with space for a dining table, equipped with a gas hob and electric oven. A door leads to a charming little seating area and external stairs down to the garden. The bathroom includes a shower, WC, sink and heated towel rail.

The nearly 40m² attic is floored and currently used for storage, but—with permission—offers excellent potential for conversion into additional living space, bedrooms or a studio.

Outside, the property features a small but delightful garden, full of character with established bushes, shaded corners...
