DESCRIPTION

A mill, the River Loire and a project waiting to be imagined

What if your next life project were by the water's edge?

Situated right on the banks of the River Loire, this former 19th-century mill offers a rather rare living environment, but above all a property that presents a wealth of possibilities.

The property offers just over 350 m² of living space on nearly 7,000 m² of land, comprising a main house, a group gîte and several outbuildings.

The main house, consisting of a large living area and open-plan kitchen on the ground floor and 2 to 4 bedrooms upstairs, allows you to live on site whilst maintaining a clear separation from the tourist business.

The gîte, which is currently in operation and can be sold furnished, can accommodate around fifteen people. It features a large living area with an open-plan kitchen, several bedrooms, a sauna and spa area, and, above all, a magnificent covered terrace overlooking the Loire.

Outside, the grounds offer the perfect setting for family time, outdoor activities or simply enjoying the tranquility of the riverside.

A sheepfold of approximately 110 m² and several outbuildings complete the property and could be used for various extension projects.

This property therefore offers you the opportunity to change your lifestyle and develop a tourism business, or simply to enjoy a peaceful retreat with your family in an enchanting setting.

The best thing is to come and see it for yourself.
